1. Message from the 2011 President

Dear ACCE Members:

It is my great pleasure and honor to serve as the President of the Association of Chinese Corrosion Engineers (ACCE) International for the year of 2011-2012. Founded in 1996 by Dr. George Lai and a few Chinese associates, the central mission of ACCE has since been to promote the personal and professional interactions of Chinese corrosion engineers across the globe, and to provide and promote business opportunities and cooperation between overseas and China.

In the past years including this year's annual dinner at NACE 2011 in Houston, ACCE had an overwhelming attendance. Near 60 people from Mainland China, Taiwan, Europe, Canada, and the United States joined in the dinner.

In 2011-2012, I encourage you to provide comments, questions, suggestions, or ideas that will lead ACCE to grow stronger. I am also seeking your service to support ACCE in many activities for the years to come.
